LONG JOURNEY IN WHEEL CHAIR

William Graff, Who is Practically Helpless, Reaches This City After Covering 21,000 Miles

William Graff, of Toledo, Ohio, who is helpless in every limb except his left arm, but who smiles as cheerfully as if he were in possesion of the full strength of physical manhood, arrived in this city yesterday in his wheel chair which has ticked off the twentyone thousandth mile of a sixty-five thousand mile journey. He wheeled up to the City Hall as soon as he arrived in town and obtained the permission of the police authorities to sell his postcards along the streets. That same left hand is the motive power of the wheel chair. Graff propels his odd conveyance by turning irst one wheel and then the other. When he first started on the road he used a chair in which he had rigged up a motor, but this soon broke down. Then he built an automobile after his own design, but this, too, was unable to survive the rigors of the long journey, and Graff constructed the chair he now uses. It is an ordinary invalid's chair, and he has to push it along by hand, but he says it gives promise of having him farther on his way than either of the other contrivances. He says he can make 26 miles a day when the weather is favor-

JOB MAY COST MAN HIS LIFE

(Special from United Press.) New Haven, May 11-Because he padly stabbed Ploissto Salvatore, who had dared to work at the job from which he had just been discharged, yesterday, a man known as Frank, the baker, is being hunted by the local police, today. At the hospital, Salvatore was said to be recovering from ten stab wounds. The police have uncovered no trace of the aggressor. Coroner Mix took the wounded man's ante-mortem statement, yesterday, because his condition appeared to be critical but Salvatore will recover.

> Six pages in black velvet court uniforms, slashed with white, and four young men bearing white tapers trimmed with scarlet ribbons, met the Cardinal at the clubhouse entrance. Following him were acolytes in white surplices, the Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory in full court uniform, members of the order wearing its gold and silver decorations, York and other cities.

> The procession was greeted as it passed through the club rooms by a reception committée, whose members carried tiny sliver and gold flags. They escorted the guest of honor to the ballroom, where was a throne especially Farley standing at his right and Frank Gannon, President of the Catholic club, at his left, Cardinal Gibbons took his seat upon the throne, while other members of his party grouped themselves closely about 2,000 to Meet Him. Wearing the inshignia of the Order of St. Gregory were Dr. George Dunn of Boston, Knight Commander; Eugene Philbin, Dr. F. J. Quinlan and J. D. Crimmins. Among the churchmen there were Bishop Cusack of New York, to take a special course of treatment Bishop McSherry of South Africa, which cured his twin brother of the Bishop McDonnell of Brooklyn, Mgrs. Mooney, Lavelle and Kearney.

Waiting to be presented were more than 2,000 men and women who thronged the ball room and adjoining rooms all of which had been lavishly decorated with the Papal colors of yellow and white. Back of the Cardinal's Throne were

It was a piece of heraldic designing such as had never been attempted in America before, and was considered by the thousands who admired it as ar effective grouping of the American colors in a manner to serve the purposes of honoring the church's one American prince.

Welcomed By President.

Only a brief programme of speeches preceded the presentation of the club's guests to Cardinal Gibbons. President Gannon welcomed the dis- ambulance. Dr. Krause feared intertinguished visitor to the Catholic club nal injuries, bers and expressed the hope that he would be present again in the near future to attend the ceremonies planned in honor of the forthcoming jubi-lee of Archbishop Farley's service in the church. As presiding officer of the evening he introduced Justice Victor J. Dowling of the Court of Appeals, who said:

"Your Eminence: It is with no ordinary sense of gratification that the members of the Catholic club avail themselves of the opportunity of extending their felicitations on the two milestones in your wonderful career. It is because you represent in the Sacred College the Catholic church in the United States that we find the strongest appeal to our affections. Your Eminence is happily connected by birth and achievement with that State which, because of its colonial history, is the peculiar pride of our people. Well has Maryland been called 'The Land of the Sanctuary.' Cardinal Responds.

In the Cardinal's response he ex-pressed his deep gratification at the reception arranged for him and the words of greeting spoken by Justice

Dowling. "It has been my privilege and good fortune," he said, "to have known the last four Archbishops who have presided over this archdiocese; the lionhearted Hughes, the gentle and courtly McCloskey, the polished and learned Corrigan, and your present beloved Archbishop, who has been my sterling and prelates of the Church from New and steadfast friend, ready to assist me by his powerful influence in every emergency. I might truly call him my 'fidus Achates.' "A zealous and enlightened laity is the glory of the Christian church. The most luminous periods of the Church's history have been epochs conspicuous prepared for him. With Archbishop for laymen who have vindicated the cause of Christianity by the eloquence of their writings or by the luminous sanctity of their lives. The golden age of Chrisianity gave birth to a long line of learned and intrepid lay apologists of the faith. Among others I might mention Justice Martyr, Minutius Felix, and Lactantius, who is styled the Christian Cicero in consequence of his elegant and, ornate style "And in the nineteenth century, France contributed to the cause of the Christian religion Chateaubriand Montalembert, and Frederick Ozanam. Spain has given Donoso Cortes; Germany has given us Windthorst; England, Sir Kenelm Digby and William G. Ward, and Ireland, the great tribune, Daniel O'Connell, whom a distinguished critic of another nation has pronounced the greatest orator of the nineteenth century.
